We're pleased to announce that the Cat Writers Association, Inc., has awarded its Certificate of Excellence in the category of gift books to The Well-Lettered Cat. Submissions in this category were reviewed by three independent judges on the basis of distinctive writing, artistic merit, and the overall execution of the project.

All category winners will be eligible for additional special awards to be announced at the CWA's national conference in November.

Authored by Porter Evans and designed by Edward Fierro, The Well-Lettered Cat is an adult alphabet book for the literary or artistic cat lover. Published in 2006 by Lines Rampant Press, the hard-bound, full-color volume is available online (<http://www.linesrampantpress.com>) and at selected bookstores and museum shops. In the Santa Barbara area, The Well-Lettered Cat can be found at Chaucer's, Tecolote, Borders, the Santa Barbara Museum of Art, and the Westmont College bookstore.

The Cat Writers Association, Inc. (CWA) is an organization of professionals who write about cats. "Our members include writers, editors, publishers, artists, public relations specialists, and broadcasters," notes Beth Adelman, CWA contest chair. "The goal of our annual communications contest is to encourage and reward excellence."
